Dear Mr. Cooper:

National Volunteer Week, April 15-21, 2012, celebrates people doing extraordinary things to improve communities across the nation. In the spirit of this national celebration, Eckerd would like to present you with the enclosed certificate of appreciation for the service you've offered to enrich the lives of children and provide them with much-needed second chances.

If there is anything I can do to make your volunteer experience more rewarding, please feel free to contact me at any time at the number below or via email at volunteer@eckerd.org.

It has been said that one's true calling is where your heart's greatest gladness meets the world's deepest need. We can think of no greater need than the need to strengthen America's families and help children succeed...and we're so thankful for your support. We're looking forward to serving alongside you in the year to come.

Regards,
